13 Car-Camping Tents for Luxurious Outdoor Snoozing

Rest easily at campgrounds and festivals with 2017's best new car-camping tents.

Campfires and s'mores are calling your name! So be sure to pack the right tent for your next camping trip to ensure comfort, safety, and fun. Today's market is jam-packed with affordable and premium options, all of them emphasizing different traits, features, and materials, each with their own benefits. Some mansion-sized car-camping tents are great for festivals and trips with large groups, as they offer tons of space and comfort, but take up lots of space in your car and are more susceptible to high winds. Smaller tents are easier to set up, pack easily in your car, and stand up better in storms. Whatever your preference, we'll help you decipher which one best suits you.

Note: The number in each product title refers to the number of people each tent will comfortably sleep.

If an epic view is what you're chasing, these full-sized doors that open adjacently will give you an unparalleled line of sight of the sunset. It's great for car-camping, as it won't take up tons of space in your trunk, but still has plenty of space for two people plus a few pups. One of the two vestibules can be used for gear, and the other can be left free for coming and going. And the color-coded poles and clips make setup easier than ever. Go ahead — a killer mountain vista awaits.
